

HARDING SHOWS COOL JUDGMENT IN SELECTIONS

President-Elect Carefully Balances Politics and Business in Cabinet.

HUGHES IS ONLY FIXTURE

Only One Man Has Been Definitely Selected for Place in Advisory Board.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921.)

Washington—Twist Marion and Washington wither runs the great political highway of the nation, many a change has come during the past week. Some of the early cabinet probabilities have fallen by the wayside. Some of the early legislative enthusiasms have been sidetracked and the hard and serious business of readjusting the nation's economic affairs with a group of able executives has come to be looked upon by President-elect Harding as a transcendent responsibility.

No longer do the former comrades of Senator Harding at Washington regard the man at Marion, Ohio, as one who can be twisted and pulled in any direction at will to satisfy political cravings or individual whims. The burdens of state rest heavily upon the president-elect and the members of congress who have returned here from Marion after long talks with him speak of the earnestness with which the next president of the United States is tackling the preliminary of his job.

Hughes Is Fixture.
All Washington has learned during the week of the upset in the cabinet slate. The truth is that today only one man is a fixture—possibly two. The first is Charles Evans Hughes, who is already arranging his affairs for the acceptance of the portfolio of secretary of state. The other is Harry Daugherty, who can be attorney general if he wants to be. In a general sense, nobody else has a cabinet promise from Mr. Harding that cannot be revoked. Indeed, Senator Harding has adopted a policy which the wisecracks here say is an apt piece of personal strategy coupled with years of political acumen. When Mr. Harding talked with some of the celebrities who have been mentioned for cabinet positions, he said to each something like this:

"Of course cabinet slates are like time-tables, they are subject to change without notice, and just about the time one has fixed part of the slate some geographical considerations enter into another part and a shift must be made. All things being equal, if things do shape themselves right, will you be in a position to go into the cabinet?"

Now to some men that might appear as a definite offer of a cabinet portfolio, sufficiently certain to go home and tell one's wife and one's intimates about it. But Mr. Harding is not a public person. But any reader will agree that the foregoing doesn't represent a definite commitment and that presidential prerogative permits the making of such general statements to more than the ten men who would eventually be chosen.

Objections Pile Up
Then there's another factor to be taken into consideration. The moment word gets out of the probable selection of cabinet secretaries all the people who have criticism to make pile their letters and telegrams of dissent on the heads of the men whose names have been printed as probable appointees. For instance, the Chicago Post had been loudly hawking the appointment of Henry C. Wallace as secretary of agriculture and thought they had succeeded when rather positive information that he would be appointed was made public. They redoubled their efforts and so did certain farmer organizations which are opposed to Wallace.

Another fascinating situation from a political viewpoint is that which surrounds the selection of Will Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, who has been mentioned for the postmaster generalship. It all has to do with Indiana politics the ramifications of which always passeth all understanding. "It is said, for instance, that Senator Harry New is determined to get the nomination and defeat him for re-nomination next year. It is also said that Mr. New would like to be in the cabinet and would like to see Will Hays make the race for senator. Some people who ought to know and who are not themselves parties to the Indiana controversy say Will Hays will land in the cabinet not as postmaster general but as secretary of commerce.

Needs Politicians
The slate which got attention from one end of the country to the other contained the names of A. T. Hertz of Kentucky, Will Hays and Harry Daugherty, three men active in republican politics, able men indeed but men who some of the critics have said didn't measure up to the carnival business of the "ablest men in the republican party." But on the other hand, Senator Harding is a veteran student of politics and he knows that ten men may be able in the business world and yet make a failure of government administration because of their lack of political insight, their lack of ability to judge a the psychical moment what it is that public

Lost Airmen At Moose Factory

This is the first photograph of the rescue of the three United States navy balloonists who were lost for days in the frozen wilderness of Canada to arrive in the United States. The picture was taken by S. A. Braadbury, a clerk in the Hudson Bay company's post at Moose Factory who was present when the airmen arrived. He left a day or so later for civilization with the picture.

The picture shows the arrival of the half-famished Americans at Moose Factory where they were met by J. L. Gaduet of the Hudson Bay Co.

BORAH SWINGS BIG STICK ON FETE EXPENSE

Sheer Waste to Appropriate Money for Inaugural, Idaho Senator Declares.

BORAH—A resolution denying any further appropriations for the expenses of the Harding inaugural and notifying inaugural committees that no government building will be turned over to them for a ball, was introduced today by Senator Borah, Idaho, who attempted to have it adopted at once.

Objection by Senator Smoot, Utah, prevented this. Borah's resolution said that more than two million men are unemployed in the United States, that 3,500,000 children are starving in Europe, while appeals are made to Americans to contribute to relief funds; that this nation has a debt of $21,000,000,000, current expenses of $400,000,000 a year, a deficit of $2,000,000,000; that taxes are too high for business to pay and succeed and that the republican party pledged the strictest economy in the campaign.

"In defiance of these pledges," the resolution continues, "it is planned to have the most ostentatious inaugural even seen in this or any other country."

Borah declared that the expenses of the inaugural ceremonies at the capitol have been provided for, not an other dollar should be appropriated. There is now pending a bill appropriating nearly $60,000 additional for comfort stations, additional police and other expenses. Further appropriations are to be asked, Borah declared.

SNOW SLOWS UP HOMECOMING OF LOST AVIATORS

Senator King Wants to Know Why Balloonists Started on Their Trip.

By United Press Leased Wire
Moffat, Ont.—The last few miles of the outward trail of the rescued American aeronauts is today somewhat obliterated by a precipitation of snow during the night.

Three inches fell and the storm continues. Unless it abates soon, the progress of the dog teams from Moose Factory will be hampered considerably, according to the local experts in mushing over the trails of the north country.

The men have now been on the trail thirteen days if they left as per the schedule arranged when George McLeod left Moose Factory for this village to file the first telegram announcing the safe landing of the naval officers in the James Bay district.

Two more men arrived during the night and a formidable battery of cameras will be pointed at the men as they round the curve a quarter of a mile from here, which will be the first point where they come into view of the anxious photographers and news writers now here waiting for the "big story."

Senator Wants Probe
Washington, D. C.—Senator King of Utah, today asked the navy department for information about the conditions under which the three navy balloonists who were lost in Canada, began their flight and for what purpose they made the flight.

King stated that if the navy department's reply to the inquiry seems to him to require it, he will introduce in the senate a resolution for an investigation of the flight.

EMBEZZLER SUICIDES TO AVOID JAIL TERM

Spokane, Wash.—Jay B. Hough, a partner in the broker firm of Millholland and Hough was held here today in default of $20,000 bond.

John B. Millholland, the other member of the firm, killed himself when it became apparent he would be arrested on charges of embezzlement of $350,000.

Hough told the police he had made a suicide pact with his partner, but as Millholland was carrying out his part of the agreement by shooting himself, Hough confessed to authorities.

WEAK LEADERS REAL CAUSE OF BIG UPHEAVAL

Von Hollweg Wanted Fair Peace But Was Too Weak to Oppose Militarists.

BY COLONEL E. M. HOUSE
(Copyright 1921 by Public Ledger Co.)
New York—The fatalities among the great diplomatic military and naval leaders of the war have not been many.

Kitchener was the first to go and Theobald von Bethmann Hollweg is the last. The two mark is nearly the sum of all, for Field Marshal Roberts and Lord French were giants of another day and were already feeble by the time when the war came with its mad rush in the summer of 1914.

In 1909 when Von Bethmann Hollweg became the fifth, and as we know now, to all intents and purposes, the last of the imperial German chancellors, the empire whose destinies he was called to direct, was in its flower. German kultur and efficiency were on the tip of every tongue. German commerce touched the ends of the earth and her merchant marine invested the seven seas. Germany was to be reckoned with in every world movement, be it in war or be it in peace. And all this had come about in one short generation.

Created Three Castes
There was general speculation as to where this unprecedented national activity would lead. Many students of government believed that the result would be German domination of the world by peaceful penetration while others thought that the movement was too rapid to last and that disaster would come as swiftly as had success. In this period of intensive growth, the German policy was the antithesis of ours, since they were doing what we were trying to undo, that is, to unravel private business from governmental business. On the contrary, they were linking up big business with the government in such a way that makes for an uneven distribution of wealth and only three castes could have survived—the aristocracy, that of the government, and that of great wealth. The process was going on smoothly for the reason that there was an era of prosperity, and the laboring classes were lulled into acquiescence by laws impregnated with state socialism, many of them righteous and of much value.

LUMBERMEN IN PLOT TO KEEP PRICES WAY UP

Federal Trade Commission Charges Existence of National Combine.

REVEALS HUGE PROFITS

Private Correspondence Offered as Proof of Commission's Charges.

By Ralph F. Couch
By United Press Leased Wire

Washington—Lumber manufacturers of the country through ten regional associations are able to control production, stifle competition and so prevent price declines, the federal trade commission charged in a special report today.

The report with a mass of seized correspondence to support these charges was forwarded to congress. The evidence has also been given the department of justice, it was announced.

Particular interest attached to the report because the price of lumber has been a large factor in the almost complete halting of home building which has resulted in a housing shortage and high rents.

At one period, the Southern Pine association, according to the report, published a barometer chart of production throughout the United States, with marginal notes, one of which read:

"Market advancing—increase production."
"Had the current situation been reversed," wrote the commission, "marginal notes would have been applied as follows:

"Market declining—decrease production."

Divide Profits

The report also contained a description of an association of retail lumber dealers in Chicago which, it said, parcels out to each dealer a certain share of the entire retail lumber business in that city. When one concern sells more than its share, it is obliged to pay into a general fund a certain proportion of its profits, the commission reported, and this is divided among concerns which sold less than their share.

Again the report said that in Kansas City a group of lumber manufacturers in 1920 received a margin of profit of $26.35 on a unit of lumber which cost them $23.65 to produce. In 1919, the margin of profit was but $3.94; in 1918 $6.41 and in 1916, $1.98. This data was obtained, the commission said, from A. A. Davis, statistician of the Kansas City exchange, a bureau maintained by the Southern Pine association.

Stops Price Declines

The commission submitted a telegram sent from Washington, February 28, 1920, by Edward Hines, to E. G. Griggs, of Tacoma, Wash. The telegram follows in part:

"General lumber prices today no higher and in many cases not so high as all commodities that come in competition with lumber or where used. Farming community receiving higher prices for their products relatively and never were more able financially to buy lumber. Exports in all large cities have advanced 40 to 70 per cent, hence able to buy. Think would be serious mistake to offer reduced prices but am of opinion it would show broad gauged policy to stop further advance but not lower prices."

Practically all of the lumber used in the country comes from ten principal regions and in each region the biggest manufacturers and dealers are banded together in local organizations, the report said.

National Organization

These organizations are in turn connected through the National Lumber Manufacturers' association. The report quoted letters said to have passed between officials of the various associations discussing prices, stocks on hand, possibilities of raising prices and policies toward national legislation.

MARY IS JEALOUS, OPERA STARS AVER

Chicago—"Our Mary" Garden is flat on her back at the Blackstone hotel and under doctors' orders not to talk.

Perhaps that explains reason for the daily drab dresses directed against the Grand opera star by other temperamental singers, Miss Garden's friends suggested today.

They said Mary wasn't able to fight back.

Prodigals Return To Deserted Families

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison, Wis.—The sensational love parallelogram disclosed when Pierre Paul Authier, of Highland Park, Ill., married father of a two-year-old baby, cloped with Mrs. Charlotte Franzen, who had a husband and a year-old baby here, may not be allowed to be squashed, if police here have their way.

Mrs. Franzen, who effected a reconciliation with her husband, Philip Franzen, a met decorator for the University of Wisconsin at Chicago Sunday, returned with him to Madison today.

Carefully guarded by Franzen, Mrs. Franzen went to the home she deserted here, kissed her baby and announced she was going to take a good rest. Franzen barred all callers but said a statement would be issued later.

Franzen's charge of grand larceny against Authier alleged the theft of $100 at the time he "stole" Mrs. Franzen, is not to be dropped, according to plans of Chief of Police Thomas Shaughnessy here.

Franzen has said he will not push the case.

Failing in efforts over long distance telephoned to Highland Park, Ill., police today, to obtain their aid in arresting Authier, Shaughnessy is expected to appeal to Illinois state officials to surrender Authier.

Equal blame for her elopement with Authier, was accepted today by Mrs. Franzen in an interview.

"I was not too unsophisticated not to know what I was doing," she said. "I just couldn't help it."

Authier, accused by Franzen of having "stolen" his wife, was no more to blame than she for the elopement, Mrs. Franzen said today.

"It began with a little innocent flirtation," she said. "I went visiting in Milwaukee last July and met Pierre. We both tried to stop it but it was no use. Our affection grew until it was no longer in our power to control it."

Mrs. Franzen says she does not care what other women will say about her action. She said she already could feel the countless fingers of public scorn pointing at her.

"But I'm not a woman to bow down to those who do not know," she said defiantly. "They don't know my life—they smugly compare it to their own and judge me."

HARDING WANTS STRONG MEN FOR SOUTHERN POSTS

Ohio Man Officially Becomes President-Elect of United States Today.

Marion, Ohio—Warren G. Harding officially becomes president elect of the United States today.

Presidential electors meet in their respective state capitols today to cast their votes for president and vice president.

Harding's resignation from the senate was lying on the governor's desk at Columbus today to be accepted by Harry L. Davis, whose inauguration takes place today.

The resignation was made effective Jan. 15, at which time Frank B. Willis senator elect, will take Harding's place. Believing South America will be one of the most important fields for American trade, Harding will seek to induce men of the highest ability to take posts there.

Among those mentioned as under consideration by Harding are Nibbles Murray Butler, president of Columbia University; Victor Lawson, Chicago publisher; Myron T. Herrick, Ohio, former ambassador to France; Frank A. Vanderlip, New York banker; Colonel James G. Darden, New York capitalist; David Jayne Hill, former ambassador to Germany; R. B. Creager, lawyer, Brownsville, Texas; Carmi Thompson, Cleveland business man; Ex-Senator Albert J. Beveridge, Indiana; Frank A. Munsey, New York publisher; Frank O. Lowden, Illinois; Henry M. Stimson, New York lawyer; Raymond Robins, Chicago.

Butler is also mentioned for Paris, Vanderlip for Japan or a South American post, Hill for Great Britain and Creager for Mexico.

Robins is likely to be the American representative in Russia should relations be resumed.

DEFER TRIAL OF COAL CONSPIRACY

Grand Jury Will Complete Probe Before Trial Is to Be Resumed.

By United Press Leased Wire
Indianapolis, Ind.—Trial of the government's case against 125 local miners and operators charged with conspiracy to restrain production and distribution of coal, was continued indefinitely by Federal Judge A. B. Anderson here today.

The continuance was granted on motion of District Attorney Frederick VanNoy on the grounds that the federal grand jury sitting here now is making further investigations of the local industry.

VanNoy recently said that "the heart was taken out" of the case by orders of Attorney General Palmer directing that certain evidence be withheld Judge Anderson then said that Palmer "came strangely near to compounding a felony."

In granting the continuance, Judge Anderson explained that it was pending the grand jury investigation.

WIFE'S HUNGER STRIKE IS ALARMING HUSBAND

Danville, Ill.—Alarmed for the first time since his slowly starving wife started to fast to save his forty-three days, run Harrington today treated her to partake of food. His efforts were unavailing.

Mrs. Sarah Harrington again pleaded with her obstinate husband to close his prodigious appetite and become an evangelist for the Church of God in Christ.

"I'll not be a hypocrite," he said. "I regret the consequences but my convictions force me to stick the Golden Rule and the ten commandments. I'm not out out to preach there are too many preachers now who should be picking the kids and laughing butter as I am."

RAIL UNIONS BLAME BANKS FOR IDLENESS

Railway Employees Demand Investigation of Cost-plus Contract System.

SAYS COSTS ARE INFLATED

Railroad Practice Constitutes Fraud, Railroad Labor Board Hears.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Fifty thousand skilled railroad employees have been thrown out of work through railroad making contracts with outside equipment concerns, B. W. Jewell, president of the Railway Employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, charged here today in a statement to the United States railroad labor board.

Jewell made the statement at a hearing on the petition of railway employees to the board to have boards of adjustment made national in scope instead of local.

Jewell charged the public had been defrauded of millions of dollars by the railroad interests under the cost-plus contracts with equipment companies controlled by the same banks which control the railroads.

These evils, he said, were the direct result of the "dominating control of the Morgan steel combine."

"This steel-banking combine controls at least 80 per cent of the railroad mileage of the country, including practically all of the large railroad systems," Jewell said.

"This combine also controls twenty of the largest equipment concerns with which the railroads have large contracts."

Hits Guarantee Clause
Jewell declared that under the cost-plus guarantee of the Esch-Cummings act, these "grossly inflated costs" constitute a fraud against the United States government probably in violation of the federal statutes.

The contracts with outside concerns has "deliberately created unemployment, suffering and discontent at a time when the public interests required the utmost confidence and harmony in the relations between capital and labor."

"This is the same combine of financial interests which has been torturing the public to pay excessive prices in payment of the costs of the open shop campaign in the building industry in New York," Jewell said.

The banks, Jewell said, are using the railroads for selfish purposes instead of for public service.

"These interests," Jewell said, "are unfit to operate the railroads," and requested that the labor board investigate the whole situation thoroughly.

BULL MOOSERS ARE STILL IN RUNNING

Hiram Johnson Warns Reactionaries to Watch Their Step Carefully.

By L. C. Martin
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—Senate progressives today served notice of their intention to continue the fight on reaction.

Through a statement issued by Senator Hiram Johnson of California, the senators composing the progressive group warned that though political leaders may have forgotten progressivism, it is "still cherished by the great inarticulate mass."

Johnson's statement, though it did not refer by name or in detail to any particular person, or measure, was the warning of progressives to reactionary forces that the progressives will not permit their opponents to control the Harding administration, challenged them to pass reactionary laws unhampered. The statement clearly indicated the determination of the progressives to fire the opening gun of their campaign when the senate takes up the motion to reconsider the Ponderosa anti-strike bill.

Senator La Follette will call up the measure today, he announced in a statement by set to business.

INDICT FIVE MEN FOR ROBBING WHISKY CAR

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Paul, Minn.—Five men indicted for conspiracy to rob a train carrying interstate transit of whisky, were indicted today in St. Paul.

Harry Kabanoff, of Westinghouse, was not in court when the indictments were called today and his arrest was ordered for today.

Three others and one woman were charged with the robbery.

Jack Durke was indicted for an offense which was not specified in the indictment.

Others to be indicted at the next session of the grand jury at Appleton.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter if Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliver, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories, tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful, new elixir so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to stop into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two spoonfuls with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you can't feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be foolish, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.

SOLONS BEGIN TO ARRIVE IN MADISON

State Capitol Is Nearly Ready for Opening of Legislature Wednesday.

Madison. — Although few of the legislative committee rooms can be vacated by the various departments for another week, they will be ready before any of the committees are ready to hold a session, and final plans for the convening of the legislature on Wednesday were completed today.

The first member of either house to arrive for the session was Senator A. C. Anderson, Menomonie, who, with his wife, reached Madison on the early train this morning. Mrs. Anderson coming as a presidential elector to cast the vote of the Tenth Congressional district for President at noon today.

A little later Senators Anton Kueh and J. Henry Bennett, Shawano and Viroqua, respectively, also presidential electors, arrived, while Speaker Riley S. Young, Daren, and candidate for re-election as presiding officer of the lower house and several other leaders arrived during the day.

It is expected that by noon Tuesday fully 100 of the 133 members will be on hand to attend the party caucuses Tuesday evening when the officers of both houses will be selected by the republican members. The senate caucus will be held in the senate parlor, as usual, while the assembly caucus will be held in the general hearing room in the north wing.

STATE OFFICER IS JOKER'S VICTIM

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Atlanta, Ga.—An expressman called at the office of Charles A. Cook in the state capitol.

"Will you sign for the package?" he asked.

Cook took one look at the package and refused. It was a 26-foot show-case.

The expressman called again when Cook was out and a well meaning friend signed for it.

The mail order house which had sent the show-case threatened to sue Cook for $35, expressage before taking it back.

Then Cook received bill for $72 for expressage.

A few days later an unwelcome phonograph was delivered at Cook's house. More heated correspondence.

Then came letters from publishing houses thanking him for subscriptions and enclosing bills.

Next Dr. Eliot's famous five-foot library. Then "How to Become a Mechanic in Ten Lessons."

Later a postcard announcing that the publishers were happy to inform Cook that a complete set of O. Henry's "with Oppenheim free" was on the way.

Cook has offered a reward of $100 for capture of the person who is signing his name to magazine mail order blanks.

START ARRANGEMENTS FOR REAL ESTATE CONVENTION

Convention machinery for the gathering of the Wisconsin Real Estate Brokers' association here February 16, 17 and 18 was set in motion at a meeting of the Appleton Real Estate board Saturday noon at the Sherman house. Committees are to be appointed to carry out the various arrangements. Ways and means for handling the throng that attends were discussed. Reservations are already coming in and it is expected that all hotels in Appleton, Neenah and Menasha will be needed, together with rooms in private residences. A committee of Appleton women will entertain the lady delegates.

ANOTHER RURAL SCHOOL PUBLISHES NEWSPAPER

Green Valley Journal is the name of a new paper published by the pupils of school district No. 2 of the town of Osborn which has made its appearance. Its editorial staff consists of Sadie Eick, Elmer Spaulde, Doris Melter and Carl Walters. The paper contains six pages of general school news and appears in manuscript form. The teacher of the district is Miss Genevieve Dunbar.

The publication of school paper is a new and popular undertaking with the schools of the county and the indications are that it will not be long before the majority of districts will have one. The first school paper published in the county was Shanty Holm's Journal which made its appearance over a year ago. The Kimberly Echo was published a few weeks later and has been followed by Dale School Journal, Pine Grove School News, Freckles and nearly a dozen others.

Seek Additional Trains
 Additional train service will be asked of the Soo line by the Fond du Lac Association of Commerce and the Oshkosh Association of Commerce to make connections with trains operated over the new Appleton-Neenah extension of the Wisconsin and Northern railroad.

Suspend Service
 Notice has been received by the postoffice that parcel post shipments to Rumania are suspended until further notice. The reason for the ruling was not stated.

Civil Service Exams
 Civil service examinations were conducted here and at New London Saturday to fill a vacancy in the rural mail carrier force at the Seymour postoffice. Several applicants wrote the tests.

Woman Sets Record
 Mrs. Thomas Lank broke all bowling records for the Appleton Woman's Club when she rolled up a score of 208 Friday evening. The Friday evening team did exceptionally well this week, scores of over one hundred being made by both Miss Martha Knepper and Miss Isabelle Spel. This team is doing good work and is prepared to put up a good fight in the bowling tournament which will be held the last week in January.

New Officers
 Installation of officers will take place at the regular meeting of the Farmers' Union Monday evening at trades and labor hall. Lunch and a smoker will be a feature of the evening.

In New Factory
 An Appleton man who spent Friday at Oshkosh states that the Oshkosh Motor Truck company, in which many Appleton people are stockholders, is moving into a modern new factory at the south side of the city. Officers are already established there and most of the machinery is installed. The company has a number of orders ahead and intends to resume manufacture of four wheel drive trucks in about 10 days.

Principals Meet
 The Principal's Association will meet at six o'clock Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. for dinner and the regular business meeting. Frank Younger will discuss "The Teaching of Citizenship in School."

Complete Schedule
 The second bowling schedule of the St. Joseph Bowling League has been completed and games will begin Monday evening at St. Joseph hall. The Crackles won first place in the last series which ended a few weeks ago. Second place was won by the Wrens. The Crackles lost only 2 of 15 games, and the Wrens lost 7 out of 15 games.

BRIGHT FRUIT PROSPECTS FOR WISCONSIN IN 1921

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Madison.—Results of the past year have increased the enthusiasm of Wisconsin orchardists of the tree fruit prospects of their respective sections. They are expecting to supply tangible evidence in the shape of crop reports and fruit samples at the convention and show of the Wisconsin Horticultural Society, to be held in Madison, January 11-13. Secretary Frederic Cranfield reports that Wisconsin fruit men harvested and marketed a bigger and better crop of apples this year than for several seasons. The varieties that are most depended upon by the growers of this state are in the colder portions, the Deland Raspberry, Ducks, Putnam's Greening, Longfield, and the Hibernian. In addition to these, the McIntosh, Famous, Northwestern Greening, and the Winter Chief may be grown in the more moderate climates of the state. In the southern and in the extreme eastern sections which border Lake Michigan, the Westfield, Salome, Hubbardston, King, and the Delicious may also be included.

NOTICE
 The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Appleton Superior Knitting Works will be held at the office Thursday, Jan. 13 at 11 A. M. P. J. Harwood, Secretary. adv.

VETERAN SOLON, 85, TURNS REPORTER

Gen. Sherwood, Who Entered Congress With Joe Cannon, Has New Job.

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Washington.—When the term of General Isaac Sherwood of Toledo, O., expires as member of the House of Representatives, he will at once enter into the ranks of active Washington newspaper correspondents.

Sherwood is the oldest member of any great legislative body in the world. He was 85 last August.

He came to Congress March 4, 1873 when Uncle Joe Cannon also first entered.

"The difference between myself and Uncle Joe," Sherwood says, "is that he spent most of the time since then in Congress, I out of it."

Sherwood was first elected to Congress as a Republican. But he has served as a Democratic member from Toledo for the last 14 years. He went down to defeat in the Harding landslide.

JINX CAMPS ON TRAIL OF FAMOUS TENOR

(Special to Post-Crescent)

New York.—The best hard-luck story of the year might well be a record of mishaps befalling Caruso, king of tenors. Here's the list:

Four hundred thousand-dollar jewelry robbery at his home.

Beach found in the Metropolitan Opera House.

His failure to take his top note, "A" natural, in the "Vesta Non Giubbo" aria a few nights later.

Breaking of blood vessel in his throat while singing at Brooklyn Opera House.

Suit by his cook, Carlo Raggiozino, for $500 wages.

Attack of pleurisy.

Caruso, who is 52, worries most about missing the high note. His greatest fear is old age.

The tenor gets a maximum of $9,000 a night—but that doesn't chase Old Man Worry.

NEWS PATHOS AND COMEDY

By United Press Leased Wire
 Chicago.—Unable to sleep because of wrangling among temperamental operators over roles to which they were assigned, Gino Marinuzzi, director, resigned.

"They gave me nothing but sleepless nights," he said.

Omaha, Neb.—For four years Sam Wickline has opened oysters and clams at the Keystone cafe. Today, while prying the "cover" off a clam, Sam's knife struck a $10,000 pearl.

Milwaukee.—McKinley lodge, F. and A. M., believes in being early.

With snow on the ground and skating in the parks, they obtained a permit for a picnic in a city park for July 30.

Milwaukee.—Never too old to marry or be divorced, said court attaches when John Reiche, 80 years old, was granted a divorce from his 63 year old bride, who he married July 17, 1919. Cruelty was the charge.

Portage, Wis.—Who ever heard of a lucky editor? Well, he's found. J. E. Jones, editor of the Kibbourn Weekly Events, was awarded a $75 diamond ring given by a Kibbourn jeweler as a holiday trade incentive.

Chicago.—In an effort to halt a marriage epidemic among girl employees, Assistant Health Commissioner Koehler asked that their salaries be increased.

"Increased pay makes them independent and they don't get married," he said.

Chicago.—Five cops, detailed for a wedding, waited at the First Baptist church seven days for the wedding to take place, but finally discovered it had been held the day before they arrived.

ANOTHER INSTRUCTOR FOR VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

Employment of another instructor in order to make it possible to conduct full time classes for young men out of work was authorized by the board of Appleton Vocational school. It is probable the instructor will be assigned to the machine department.

While classes are being conducted all hours of every day at the school each day sees a different group in attendance. Dozens of young men are now out of work and it is desired to give them full time instruction.

The board instructed W. S. Ford, director, and Miss Mabel Burke, head of the domestic science department,

WILL KOZAK HELP BRING WISCONSIN A CHAMPION?

Richie Mitchell, Milwaukee, one of the country's greatest pugilists, who boxes Benny Leonard for the championship of the world at Madison Square Garden, New York City, next Friday, said last week:

"If I win the championship I'll owe much of my success to Kozak. It was this remarkable medicine that restored my energy and vigor and helped to promote the digestion of my food, during a recent spell of stomach trouble and over-training. Athletes like me and women in all walks of life often become 'stale', overworked and lack energy and vigor as a result. I wasn't getting the proper nourishment and strength from the food I ate, and realized that I needed a good tonic, stomachic and system builder. My trainer got me Kozak, it fixed up my stomach quickly. THE OBVIOUS COURSE TO FOLLOW

All manner of opinion may be found as to what business conditions will be during the present year. There are experts who will reason that we must expect them to be thus and so, and others who argue toward different conclusions. Men who know a great deal about finance look at the situation and prospect through the eyes of money only. They reason from the standpoint that credit is or will be in such and such a state, that interest rates must be so and so, from which only certain obvious results are possible. Men prominent in the industrial world view the outlook from their special position. They can present facts which will support the theory that the purchasing power of the country will be at a low ebb for the next six months, as well as facts which will demonstrate contrary probabilities. The leaders of commerce and labor have their particular outlooks, and the politicians theirs.

The truth is the doctors do not agree. No strictly scientific diagnosis can be made. No one can say with certainty what is before the country. Business depressions come and go, but they are not determined by reduction to formula. The reason is that while economic laws may not change, conditions surrounding them constantly change, may change over night; also our ideas as to what these economic laws are and the influence they play vary and are at best only an approximation.

The question is not whether we are to have good or poor times, but how soon we are to have better times. A return to active, vigorous prosperity is as certain as day following night. The depression which closed the old year is recognized by everyone as only temporary. Certain liquidation had to be made to return from a war to a peace basis. This has gone forward very rapidly, is going forward now. It cannot continue indefinitely. The forces which make for prosperity are all here, they have not vanished into space. They are merely reorganizing for a fresh return to full motion. World conditions cannot tolerate the slowing down of production for long.

The Federal Reserve bulletin, the National City bank of New York, the report of the Harvard committee on economical research, agree upon the expectation that deflation will extend well into spring, but that revival is due to begin by March or April. Other authorities say that improvement is already under way and that definite recovery is due within a very short time. The committee on statistics of the United States Chamber of Commerce, after an investigation throughout the country, says "we are near the bottom of the depression, or will be in the next thirty days." Ten days of this period has already elapsed. The banking and brokerage house of Hornblower & Weeks declares its belief that the "current industrial depression will end in February." John Moody, authority on securities, is convinced "that a business revival will occur during 1921, and especially after the end of the first quarter." The December letter of the Alexander Hamilton institute asserts that the banking crisis was passed in November and that money rates will be much easier in 1921, and so on.

The upward tendency is already apparent in some quarters. It may not come in all lines on the day or week predicted, but it will come and all signs indicate that it will not be long in coming. Optimism should be the order of the day. We have had enough of pessimistic talk. It does no good. Full prosperity is going to return. Those who would postpone the date are more certain to be found in error than those who would hasten it. We are likely to wake up any fine morning and find a changed atmosphere. The resting force of the nation are controlled by no statistician, no expert, no authority. They will exert themselves at the right moment, and the influence which set the signal are so vast and varied that no one interest, however great or ramifying, can stay them. Moreover, they are restless and changing and the tendency always is constructive, always productive. Obviously, there is only one course for all to pursue and that is to expect better business, talk better business, make better business.

THE TARIFF BILL AND THE FARMER

The tariff bill before congress, designed to help the farmers, is a hasty and poorly considered measure. Nearly all unprejudiced authorities agree that it is of doubtful value to agriculture. Most authorities, even among the Republican press, look upon it as a political expedient of congress designed principally to make the farmers believe their representatives are working for their interests. The New York Herald, a strong supporter of the new administration, says the bill is a "bad piece of business, because it fixes import duties none of which is reasonable and some of which are grotesque."

The rates of duty on staples run as follows: Wheat, 30 cents a bushel; wheat-flour, 20 per cent ad valorem; corn, 15 cents a bushel; beans, two cents a pound; potatoes, 25 cents a bushel; onions, 45 cents a bushel; rice, two cents a pound; cattle 20 per cent ad valorem; cotton, 7 cents a pound and wool from 30 to 45 cents a pound.

It is estimated the bill, if it becomes a law, will yield $100,000,000 in revenue, assuming the products will come in despite the high duties assessed. Such an increase in revenue would mean the levying of that additional tax on American consumers at a time when we are endeavoring to stabilize prices at a fair level. What the American farmer needs more than protection is a world market. This is the theory upon which congress has just voted over the president's veto to revive the War Finance corporation. Obviously congress does not believe either of the measures alone will do the farmer much good.

Congress will find, we believe, that arbitrary legislation cannot restore the fallen prices on agricultural products. The causes run deeper into economic law than mere tariff can reach. It is true that because of the exchange situation Canada and Argentina find it profitable to market their wheat in the United States, and while the bill may afford some relief in this direction, it nevertheless seems unfortunate that we should put up a tariff wall so high as to invite retaliation when we are reaching out for foreign markets.

The author of the tariff measure, Rep. Fordney, is a political fanatic on the subject of protection. He is a man who can quote statistics by the hour in support of high tariff, but whose powers of penetration beyond the confines of the United States are somewhat limited. His sole legislative policy for producing national prosperity always has been and always will be, tariff, more tariff and still more tariff. He is an exclusionist. He has framed his agricultural tariff bill according to his personal ideas. No hearings have been held, only political advice taken. Even Mr. Penrose, whose fondness for protecting the "infant industries" of America is proverbial, rebels at the Fordney bill and says it should be modified.

Whatever is done with the bill finally, the farmers must not expect too much good from it. They may find that it produces no change in their situation. Because it is advertised in large display as a guarantee of benefits is no proof that it will produce results. Other causes are more likely to renew agricultural prosperity than this tariff makeshift.

UNCLE ICHABOD— His Family Doctor

"Most of our folks," said Uncle Ichabod, "got used to being put beneath the god By old Dr. Pink. It wasn't no fault of his. But just what's ached in the doctor his. And things went on all right, till Hiram Shaw told 'em to stop—putting on his pie."

"The verdict went again old Doc, and so As Doc was deep in debt and trade was slow, He took a side line on to help things out. A darn, good thing to do, beyond a doubt, But when his sign went up, it made him riled To see the way that everybody smiled."

AUTO DETOXICATION

So far as anybody has ever been able to prove, there is no such thing as auto-intoxication. The conception of auto-intoxication as a pathological entity is almost pure hypothesis, or, in less sound language, the notion of auto-intoxication or self-poisoning (being poisoned by substances produced within the body) is just a theory, a little less plausible than the theory of equations or the germ theory, a little more tangible than the theory of evolution. But anyhow it is a great deal more nebulous than the illogical notions of "liver complaint," "impure blood," "uric acid," and all those other old standbys of the Nostrum-mongers.

Assuming for the sake of argument that the theory of auto-intoxication is founded upon fact and that the body may be poisoned by abnormal substances produced when certain functions are disturbed, or by retention of the normal waste products which is eliminated or incomplete, it is still of the utmost importance for one's peace of mind to remember that all this does not refer to constipation or constipation, and that in fact constipation is usually not a feature or factor of auto-intoxication. That is to say, the unpleasant symptoms which many introspective individuals experience if the usual daily evacuation is delayed can scarcely be ascribed to the absorption of retained waste matter (auto-intoxication), for the simple reason that the disagreeable symptoms (which I carefully refrain from describing) develop too quickly. We know how slowly absorption occurs from the lower bowel, if it occurs at all. The annoying symptoms are rather those of anxiety and worry, harmful emotions which can produce very prompt and very definite symptoms precisely corresponding with those complained of by the victim of the auto-intoxication obsession.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Migraine

After years of suffering from periodic sick headaches or migraine attacks, always ushered in by a peculiar aura of prismatic lights, visible at one side and lasting fifteen to thirty minutes before the headache commenced, I found an old doctor who dubbed the trouble "blind staggers," same as horses have. He recommended taking immediately, on the appearance of the aura, a half teaspoonful of soda followed by fifteen drops of aromatic spirits of ammonia in some water. It proved a boon for me. I give you the facts in the hope that they may help some other unfortunate similarly afflicted. (Mrs. B. A. W.)

ANSWER—The treatment suggested has the merit of being absolutely harmless, and the doses may be repeated in fifteen or twenty minutes in some cases with benefit. But again I must remark that migraine or "migraine" or "blind staggers," if you will, or "sick" headaches—seizures invariably ushered in by an aura of the general character mentioned by the correspondent—have a way of diminishing in intensity and frequency around middle age.

Sleeping Medicine
.....so if you will please recommend some harmless sleeping powder I can give her.....
ANSWER—There is no such hypnotic.

Having Rheumatism
You claim there is no such disease as rheumatism. Well, just suppose you had it in your right knee. What would you do about it, if you were Dr. Brady and believed there were some such disease? (H. T. R.)

ANSWER—I'd select a physician who doesn't believe there is such a disease as rheumatism, and I'd take my knee to him and just grin and bare it. The rest I'd leave to the doctor.

A CENT ISN'T A PENNY

There has always been an unexplained mystery as to what becomes of the great quantity of needles and pins and cents. Factories and mints are kept running continually to keep the supply up with the demand. And then frequently the production fails to keep pace with requirements.

Ray T. Baker, director of the United States mint, tells that the mints where cents are made frequently run night and day, turning out the "most artistic and beautiful medal ever minted" at an annual rate of 3,150,000,000.

The cent is an industrious worker, as busy as the bee, and ought not to be thrown aside. A hive of them properly directed, will produce a flow of golden honey.

The little bronze now common to us had its beginning in 1864, when a brother two-cent piece, now discarded, was also coined. Our cent, though, dates back to 1784, when an act was passed by Congress, the act being modeled by the French man, Thomas Jefferson, to coin a cent of which were to equal a dollar in value, and the 100 to weigh two and one-fourth pounds. That was the first use of "cent" in our coinage.

The size and weight has been changed a number of times since, but never the name. Yet for 135 years people have in no small number insisted in calling the cent a "penny," an English term. Mint officials, for a great many years, have tried to eliminate applying the term "penny" to the cent, but have failed.

A Plan To House Us.

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C.—Great corporations in every city to build houses for us in groups of at least 200, and to retain the management and administration of those houses as long as they last.

Haskin

That is the solution of the housing problem which is proposed by John Hilder, manager of civic development for the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. He offers it as his personal opinion as to what should be done.

But about 100 of the local chambers of commerce have already fathered housing companies to hold a series of conferences, with Mr. Hilder as consulting specialist, to determine upon a national housing plan. So it may be safely guessed that the Chamber of Commerce of the United States will attempt to solve the housing problem by applying big-business organization and efficiency to it.

The move is significant. It seems to be the first organized effort to solve the housing problem in this country. It may be taken as the effort of American capital to meet its responsibility in this regard.

The housing problem is world-wide. In every country that engaged in the war, building of dwellings practically ceased for two to four years. In England it was immediately recognized that private capital was not competent to handle the problem. It was neither prepared nor willing to do anything adequate. Neither could the British workman pay the rents which must be paid if capital is to get its interest and profit. Yet men and women are dying for lack of houses. The British Government decided that it was necessary to save the British people even if British capitalism suffered something of a setback in the process. Therefore the British Government proceeded to build houses. It did build and is building them by the thousand. It is renting them for less than they are worth. The measure is a measure of state socialism of what is commonly dubbed paternalism in this country. It is a bold step toward private capital. It seems to have the beginning of a general process of socialization in England. But it had to be done. Capital couldn't do the work, so government had to do it.

Government Houses
The same thing was true in this country during the war. Dwellings for war workers simply had to be had, at once and at reasonable prices. So government had to build them. But after the armistice the government housing corporation was quickly put out of business. It first demonstrated that houses for workmen could be made at a profit. These corporations would build in large tracts, and build whole suburbs. They would seldom build less than 200 houses in a unit. That there would be great economy in such large-scale operations cannot be denied. Furthermore, Mr. Hilder would have these corporations retain the administration of the houses permanently. The occupants would be shareholders in the corporation rather than purchasers. In this way all the economy and efficiency of large-scale operation and large organization would be gained. These housing corporations could employ the best architects, landscape gardeners and other specialists. They could make planned, artistic units of their suburbs. Instead of hodge-podge growths.

Such a system would have all the disadvantages of large corporation control, as well as its advantages. The housing corporations in a given town would soon dominate the real estate situation. You would have to buy or rent from that housing corporation and at its prices.

But corporation control is the system by which we live. The large corporation at least does the work. This housing corporation would probably build the houses.

Mr. Hilder would not have any government supervision or control of these housing corporations, but he would have them limited-dividend companies. He points out that the occupant of a house would further be protected against exploitation by the fact that he and his fellow-tenants would be stockholders in the corporation.

Consider that last sentence. The housing situation so far is not getting better. It is getting worse. We are not failing to make up the shortage in houses; we are failing to keep up with the normal increase in the population. The housing situation will almost certainly be worse a year from now than it is today. Our building industry has fallen down on the job.

Of course you cannot blame the building industry as a unit. Costs are high. People won't build because they feel that if they wait a year or two they can build much cheaper. Contractors who build houses to sell find it hard to sell them. People cannot scrape up the money to make the initial payment. And the builder cannot afford to build houses to rent. He cannot scrape up enough money to keep himself going on that basis.

The whole thing is a fine illustration of the way the industrial system does not work. There is plenty of material. There is plenty of idle labor. There are several million people who need houses. And yet houses are not built. Those magical forces of supply and demand upon which we so implicitly rely are simply not working.

Build Big Houses Only

Most of the houses you see going up are expensive houses. Most of them are the houses of men who made a stake in the war, and are now spending some of it. They do not care if it does cost a few thousand more. The modest house of seven or eight rooms, for the man who works for a salary, is being built in very small numbers. And the five or six room house, the house for the wage earner, is not being built at all. Furthermore, most of the houses being built for rent and for sale are being built of poor material. The woodwork and the hardware are of the cheapest kind. The construction, say men who know, is not of a kind calculated to last.

In this situation, you see the importance of any move that the Chamber of Commerce may make. It is up to somebody to make a move. From somewhere must come initiative and organization. So far as housing is concerned, American industry has fallen down. Let whoever claims the responsibility for it come forward and pick it up. If capital claims that it can serve the country's need for leadership, initiative, and organization in its industrial life, this is its chance to prove the fact, to gain and hold the country's confidence.

It is with some realization of this fact that the Chamber of Commerce sits down to frame a housing plan. Naturally, it sees the solution of the problem in big business organization. It points out that the building of houses is one of those industries which has to a great extent remained in the control of the "little fellow." Furthermore, the building of the house, the sale of it, and the administration of it, in case it is rented, have all devolved upon different individuals or organizations. Responsibility is divided.

The Corporation Plan

Mr. Hilder proposes in each town of good size several large building corporations. These corporations would buy land in large tracts, and build whole suburbs. They would seldom build less than 200 houses in a unit. That there would be great economy in such large-scale operations cannot be denied. Furthermore, Mr. Hilder would have these corporations retain the administration of the houses permanently. The occupants would be shareholders in the corporation rather than purchasers. In this way all the economy and efficiency of large-scale operation and large organization would be gained. These housing corporations could employ the best architects, landscape gardeners and other specialists. They could make planned, artistic units of their suburbs. Instead of hodge-podge growths.

Such a system would have all the disadvantages of large corporation control, as well as its advantages. The housing corporations in a given town would soon dominate the real estate situation. You would have to buy or rent from that housing corporation and at its prices.

But corporation control is the system by which we live. The large corporation at least does the work. This housing corporation would probably build the houses.

Mr. Hilder would not have any government supervision or control of these housing corporations, but he would have them limited-dividend companies. He points out that the occupant of a house would further be protected against exploitation by the fact that he and his fellow-tenants would be stockholders in the corporation.

News of Interest From County and State

ELECTORS NAME PRESIDENT TODAY

Mrs. Youmans May Be Selected to Carry Returns to Washington.

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison — Wisconsin's electors for President and Vice-President of the United States were officially cast at noon today for Warren G. Harding and Calvin Coolidge, respectively.

The republican presidential electors, chosen at the election last November, met in the governor's reception room at noon to cast the vote of the state before adjourning late this afternoon. Will select a messenger to carry the vote to Washington.

A movement was started this morning by some of her friends to have Mrs. Theodore Youmans, of Waukesha, ardent suffragist who received the largest popular vote for presidential elector, selected as the messenger. Mrs. Youmans declared it was not to her and that she was not an applicant. Her friends, however, declared that it was very largely due to the efforts of Mrs. Youmans who at her own expense had lobbied in the legislature for three sessions for

EAU CLAIRE MAY GET $500,000 HIGH SCHOOL

Eau Claire—The first step toward the building of a senior high school costing around $500,000, was taken by the school board. A ways and means committee of the school board was appointed to investigate the costs, location, etc.

Eau Claire's high school is badly overcrowded and it has been suggested that the two session plan in vogue in some cities to relieve congestion—that of having half the students attend a morning session from 8 to 12 and the other half the afternoon session from 1 to 5—be adopted here.

Eau Claire has an unusual school situation. With a grade school in every ward but one, and two in one ward, one ward school is standing idle and unused, while another is only partly used. What disposition to make of the former is a problem not yet solved. Eau Claire's original school plan was based on the theory that every ward should have a school, with the result that there is really no centralized school in the city.

equal suffrage, that Wisconsin was the first state to ratify the nineteenth amendment granting equal suffrage, she received the largest popular vote for presidential elector and it would be only showing her proper recognition to send her as the messenger to carry the Wisconsin vote to Washington.

The Presidential electors here to cast the state vote today are: Mrs. Theodore Youmans, Waukesha; C. Z. Simmons, Kenosha; Myron E. Keats, Oconomowoc; David A. Bogue, Portage; Samuel Blum, Monroe; James T. Drought, Milwaukee; John E. Fitzgibbon, Milwaukee; William Maurice, Fond du Lac; Senator J. Henry Bennett, Viroqua; Senator Anton Kurkuk, Shawano; Max Sell, Florence; Mrs. A. C. Anderson, Menomonie; and John T. Murphy, Superior.

REALTY TRANSFERS

GREEN BAY GIRL WOULD WED BLACK

Mother of 16 Year Old Child Gives Her Consent to Marriage.

Green Bay—Elsie Tanek, 17 years old, and Olin B. Caver, aged 25, a negro, are in jail, the former awaiting disposition by the court, and the latter on a charge of relations with the girl.

Most of the negro resulted from facts disclosed by the mother of the girl, Mrs. Annie Frankhart, who is complaining witness. She admitted that she thought there was no harm in their getting married, as they tried to do, according to the police.

The children of Mrs. Frankhart were taken from her by Judge Monahan, who declared upon inquiry that she is not a fit person to have charge of them. He declared that it appeared that she had consented to the attempted marriage of her young daughter to the negro, on the promise of being given a home by the black man.

Police investigated the conduct of Caver on a trip to Menominee, Mich., with Elsie. It was learned that he bought his own railroad ticket, but that the girl's mother bought one for Elsie.

Wants Negro for Husband Elsie is pretty. She declares that she wants to marry the negro, because "I like him, and he promised to make a good home for me, and take care of mother and brother if I would marry him."

Judge Monahan took action upon being informed that the girl and Caver applied for a marriage license in Menominee, but were refused by County Clerk Anderson, who declared that although the mother's consent was given and nothing in the law prevented a license, on general principles he would not grant a permit for a little girl like that to be married to a darky.

Coat for Christmas Gift Mrs. Frankhart, a restaurant waitress, was divorced a few years ago from John Tanek, who resides at 222 Harbor, Door county, and she married again. She lived with her two children in a rooming house where Caver also roomed. He has been accepted as a friend of the family. On Christmas he gave Elsie a coat.

Judge Monahan says that if the father of the children, or their grandparents, in Door county, are capable and willing to care for them, the children will be sent there, otherwise a state institution will care for them.

EDISON PLANT NURSE WEDS IN NEW LONDON

New London—Mrs. Louise Bernan of this city and James Rodoh of Plymouth were united in marriage in this city Thursday, the Rev. J. Kaster performing the ceremony. The groom is well known here as he was a former employee at the Edison plant. Mr. and Mrs. Rodoh will make their home at Plymouth where the groom is employed.

Miss Mary Brown and E. H. Olson were joined in wedlock Wednesday at the church of the Most Precious Blood, the Rev. J. Kaster officiating. The groom is an employee in the Edison plant and the bride has been the factory nurse the last six months. They will reside in Mr. Olson's bungalow on Lawrence street in this city.

Andrew Meikeljohn, a former resident here is in the city visiting relatives and acquaintances. He will remain here some time before returning to his home at Sheraw, South Carolina.

Emanuel Voss, a former New London young man who has spent several years in service has spent a month's furlough here visiting relatives and friends. He returned to re-enlist at Milwaukee, in the U. S. Marine Corps. Rev. H. W. Johnson, a former pastor of the Congregational church here, and later of Milwaukee, has accepted a call to LaSalle, Montana.

George Polzin, John Monsted, Melvin Borchardt, Patrick Murphy, John Cannon and Raymond Krause have returned to Marquette College, Milwaukee after spending their holiday vacation with their parents here.

Miss Gertrude Hober, formerly from here, who is now a teacher in the west, spent her holiday vacation here visiting relatives and friends.

Miss Marion Freeman of Bowler, Wis., who formerly resided here, fractured her ankle in a fall. Miss Freeman will be confined to her bed for some time.

Mrs. Charles Kanaman died at her home in Caledonia township. She was 50 years of age. Survivors are a husband, four small children, her aged father, and a brother. The funeral was attended by relatives and friends from Chicago, Janesville, Greenville, Shiocton, Tigerton and New London. Interment took place at Caledonia cemetery.

Mrs. B. Loughrin died suddenly at her home on a farm in Lebanon township. Deceased was 58 years of age and leaves two sons. Mrs. Loughrin also leaves one sister, Margaret Mulva and one brother, William Mulva. They have made their home with Mrs. Loughrin since the death of their parents. Mr. and Mrs. William Mulva who were pioneers here.

Miss Cassie Lewis, a former teacher in this city spent part of her holiday vacation here visiting friends. Miss Lewis is now at Dodgeville and holds the position of county health supervisor for Iowa county.

A pleasant farewell surprise was tendered Emanuel Voss Thursday evening by a large number of relatives and friends at the home of his sister, Mrs. Albert Roloff.

Francis Mayo, Anthony Trayser, Otto Pelzer and Donald Trayser who spent their vacation at the home of their parents here have returned to their studies at Madison.

Miss Beulah Delight Kobler, supervisor of the Antigo Teachers training school has returned to her duties after spending the holiday season with her parents here.

Mrs. Sylvester Wilson of East St. Louis, Mo., who has been in the city on an extended visit returned to her home Saturday.

Green Bay—Canadian officials are said by Circuit Judge Henry Graas to have served notice on Princess Vasilevna Troubetsky, wife of Capt. Wallace Schütz, Milwaukee clubman, that she is being sued for annulment of the marriage.

The question is now raised whether this is ample service, no official or other representative of Fond du Lac county having served the papers, as is usual.

The marriage was a wartime romance and was declared to be a wonderful love match, until the Milwaukeean went to Green Bay and started suit, alleging that he was defrauded into the alliance and that the reputed Russian princess had deceived him by not telling him that she already had a husband.

ANOTHER BUSINESS MAN PRAISES TANLAC

"It Has Simply Put An End To All My Troubles," Declares Milwaukee Man — Wants Public to Know.

Still another instance of the remarkable results being obtained from the use of Tanlac was related recently by William Skysbrook, of 2225 North Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., well-known proprietor of Skysbrook's buffet, bowling alleys and entertainment hall.

"I suffered from stomach trouble over a year," he said, "and my appetite became so poor that I had no desire to eat. Even the little I did manage to eat caused me to blow all up with gas until I could hardly breathe and at times my heart felt like it would stop beating. I had awful headaches and would get so dizzy that I could scarcely stay on my feet. My sleep was very restless and I simply felt tired and worn out all the time. Why, I almost suffered a nervous breakdown, and it was all I could do to look after my business.

"My wife insisted on my taking Tanlac, and I'm mighty glad I made up my mind to try it, for it has given me an excellent appetite and has simply put an end to all my troubles. I'm in tip top shape now, simply feeling fine, and I'm so grateful for my good health that I just want to let others know about Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Appleton by John E. Voigt, P. O. Brown, Shiocton; Dr. J. M. Sattler, Bear Creek; H. E. Abend, Dale, R. E. Lowell, Little Chute.

STOCK DIVIDEND HELD NET TAXABLE INCOME

Eau Claire—Stock dividends are not income and hence are not assessable as income under the Wisconsin income tax law, according to a decision just handed down by Judge James Wickham in Circuit court here, in the matter of the state of Wisconsin, in relation to Daniel M. Dulany versus County Clerk John H. Nygaard.

This was a test case brought by Mr. Dulany, wealthy retired lumberman of this city. The county will appeal to the state Supreme court. The outcome will be awaited with statewide interest, as it will govern future procedure under the state income tax law.

Cascarets

You are bilious, constipated, head-achy, full of cold, unstrung. Your meals don't fit—breath is bad, skin sallow. Take one or two Cascarets tonight for your liver and bowels and wake up clear, rosy and cheerful. No griping—no inconvenience. Children love Cascarets too. 10, 25, 50 cents. adv.

Begin Right Now to Conquer Your Rheumatism

If you are going to again rely upon the liniment bottle to try to rub your Rheumatism away, you will be doomed again to nothing but disappointment. A disease that can cause so much pain and suffering is not on the surface of the skin, and cannot be rubbed away.

Many forms of Rheumatism are caused by a tiny disease germ in the blood, and in such cases the only logical treatment is to search out and remove these germs from the blood.

For this purpose there is no more satisfactory remedy than S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy that has been in use for more than fifty years, and has given such general satisfaction for Rheumatism.

Begin taking S.S.S. today, and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical director will give you expert advice, without charge. Address Chief Medical Director, 160 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

SHEBOYGAN RUNS OUT OF CAGE GAME

Lake Shore City Team Cancels Game With Appleton Saturday Afternoon.

Appleton high school's plans for a start in the interscholastic basketball race at the expense of Sheboygan were knocked into a cocked hat Saturday night when Sheboygan cancelled the game a few hours before the scheduled starting hour. Sheboygan authorities did not want their boys to remain in Appleton overnight and they would have been unable to return because train connections could not be made.

Lawrence College freshmen quickly picked up a team and gave the high school a real battle, the fracas ending in a 9 to 9 tie.

Freshmen, however, claim a victory on the ground they were leading by two points when the time keeper's whistle blew announcing the end of the period. The referee did not head the whistle and the high school was able to score another basket before he ended the fight.

Joseph Verrier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Verrier, who had his scalp badly cut while coasting at Jones' park, returned home from St. Elizabeth hospital Sunday.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES WILL MEET ON MAT

Atkinson and Wundrow Head Opposing Teams in Wrestling Tourney.

The wrestling meet between Kimberly-Clark of Kimberly and Lawrence college at the latter's gym this Wednesday evening furnishes an unique situation as two pals will be matching their skill against each other. Art Wundrow and Carroll Atkinson roomed and chummed together at Lawrence last year. They both starred on the Lawrence mat team, Wundrow winning the state lightweight intercollegiate title and Atkinson winning the state light heavyweight title. Both men work at the Kimberly mill where Wundrow has been engaged to coach the wrestling team while this is Atkinson's second year as the Lawrence coach. The rivalry between the two is intense but not bitter and both men have been working hard to get their proteges in shape for the big clash.

George Hill who has been training and coaching the Lawrence wrestlers is getting into the best of condition for his big bout with Zoll Thursday evening at the armory. Hill says the college has some real material for this year's wrestling team. He thinks a lot of Kubitz, Thomas, Alexander, Diddick and Reimle. The local heavyweight is planning to make the college gym his training headquarters this winter as much as possible.

Ed Ahrens, who defeated all the local middleweights, has also made the college gym his training quarters and is helping Coach Atkinson get the men in shape for the local and intercollegiate meets this year.

Mrs. Nora Whalen of Milwaukee, formerly a resident of Appleton, visited friends here Sunday.

ST. PAUL'S AND NEENAH PLAY AT "Y" TUESDAY

St. Paul Lutherans hope to avenge their defeat in the basketball game scheduled for 8:15 o'clock Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. with Trinity Lutherans. Neenah. The victory of the up-river neighbors Friday evening over the Olive Branch team indicates the St. Paul team will meet strong opposition.

Kaukauna and Oshkosh teams of the Fox River Valley Lutheran league are to play Monday evening in the auditorium at Kaukauna.

Joseph Schomisch attended the funeral of a relative at Stockbridge Monday.

CAN'T AGREE ON FIGHT REFEREE

Hill Objects to Zoll's Selection of Otto Tonne of Green Bay.

Looks like Carl Zoll is afraid to wear his hat Thursday night for the heavyweight championship of Wisconsin unless he can have a referee from the old home town. Zoll has nominated Otto Tonne of Green Bay for third man in the ring and has refused to go on with the match unless Tonne is given the call.

Hill, however, is just as positive that there will be no match if a Green Bay man is selected as referee. Hill is conceding a lot of poundage and the biggest end of the financial transaction to meet Zoll, but he does not propose to give the match to him. That doesn't mean that Tonne isn't perfectly honest, but sometimes it is pretty hard to see the home boy in the wrong.

Elmer Johnston, promoter, wants Tommy Ryan of Oshkosh to do the talking on the mat. Hill doesn't care who is selected so long as he isn't from Green Bay while Zoll insists on a Green Bay man.

The articles signed by Zoll and Hill stipulate that the referee shall be fair and impartial and satisfactory to both parties. That "satisfactory" to both parties' business is putting the differences will be ironed out. Zoll is to get $500 for his end of the scrap and that is a lot of money for a fellow who hasn't been working for quite a while. It is very likely Carl can be made to see he can get a square deal from a referee who doesn't live in Green Bay.

BASEBALL OWNERS DRAFT SCHEDULE

Reconstruction of National Game Is Taken up at Meeting in Chicago.

By United Press Leased Wire Chicago—Reconstruction of baseball got under way with most of the magnates of the country meeting here to complete new working agreements.

The major league schedules were completed today and the baseball leaders were ready to devote all of their time to the reconstruction program. As presidents Johnson and Heydier of the two major leagues and Barney Dreyfus of the Pittsburgh nationals were working on the schedule since Saturday, no other important work could be undertaken until that was completed.

The only information given out regarding the schedule was that the opening date would be April 13.

The most important work on today's program was to consider ratification of the new national agreement. Indications were that the agreement would be approved with some slight modifications.

An agreement with the minors will be the next question taken up and it will probably be some time before a satisfactory arrangement is concluded.

While the minors are perfectly willing to accept Judge E. M. Landis as the high commissioner of baseball and abide by his rulings, they want voice in the naming of the next commissioner. They had no part in the choice of Landis, although his selection was satisfactory to them.

As soon as the new national agreement is indorsed, the judge will be formally on his new job and clothed with powers to carry out his duties as the supreme court of baseball.

INTERLAKERS DEFEATED BY OSHKOSH NORMAL TEAM

The Interlake basketball team suffered defeat at the hands of the Oshkosh Normal in the normal gymnasium Saturday evening, 25 to 21. The teams were quite evenly matched and the game was fast and clean. The Interlake team played a better passing game than the teachers, but the local men were weaker in the art of shooting baskets. Both teams used the five man defense effectively.

The first half ended 19 to 11 in favor of Oshkosh. About 400 people witnessed the game.

The lineup:
Oshkosh—Braisler, forward; Pugh, center; Coif, guard; Webster, guard; Duset.

Kubitz and Kessler starred for the local team while Webster and Pugh piled up the points for the normals. Interlake will play Wisconsin Rapids Saturday night at the Armory. A dance will follow the game.

EUROPE LOSES GRIP ON AMERICAN SPORTS

Americans Won't Stand for Domination of Sport by Foreigners.

By Henry L. Farrell
By United Press Leased Wire New York—European efforts to dominate and regulate international sports are slowly failing.

In the past the controlling bodies of the other side have been particularly anxious to dictate the conduct of boxing and tennis.

American bodies, disagreeing with some of their ideas, refused to become affiliated with the International Boxing union and the International Tennis federation.

Taking the stand that American had practically all of the recognized ring champions and that most of the sport was staged here than in practically all of the other countries combined, American representatives refused to join the International Boxing union last winter when the organizers were unwilling to give America a voice commensurate with its rank as the leading nation of the ring.

Because the International Tennis federation established the annual championship as a fixture for Wimbledon, England, America would not join. The tennis authorities on this side also disagreed with the British decision not to force the champion to "play through."

Delegates appointed by the governors of 17 states gathered here today for a three day conference with the International Sporting club that may result in organization of a national board of boxing control.

HUNTERS PLAN BANQUET FOR ANNUAL MEETING

Several prominent men, including Judge Asa Owens, president of the Wisconsin Game Protective association, and Mark S. Catlin, former state president, will be speakers at the annual meeting of Outagamie County Fish and Game Protective association at Odd Fellow hall here Monday evening, Feb. 7. The business meeting and program will follow a chicken dinner, served by a cateress.

Arrangement for the meeting are being made by G. L. Chamberlain, county secretary. He expects to make the gathering the best in the history of the association, surpassing even last year's raising session.

Election of officers and discussion of plans for the ensuing year will occupy the greater part of the business session.

EXPECT REPORT ON POSTOFFICE SOON

Congressman Classon Looks for Favorable Action Under Harding Regime.

Appleton's request for a $130,000 addition to its postoffice was one of the first bills to be referred to Secretary of the Treasury Houston for a report by the committee on public buildings and grounds of the House, according to word received from Congressman David G. Classon.

"I have reason to hope that the report of Secretary Houston will be favorable," Mr. Classon said, in commenting on the status of the bill.

"There is some doubt if any bills for the building of postoffices will be passed before March 4 when the present session ends, but such a bill is likely to be introduced soon as the new Congress meets at the call of President Harding, I am very hopeful that the committee will report favorably on the Appleton bill and that we can put it through the House, obtaining the full amount of $130,000 needed for the postoffice."

Secretary Houston's report on the Appleton project will be made within the next few days, Mr. Classon said.

MASTER PAINTERS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING HERE

Thirty master painters of the Fox River valley attended the second annual meeting of the Fox River Valley Master Painters' association at the Sherman House Saturday afternoon and evening. A feature was an address by the state secretary who discussed protection of painters and sanitation.

Mr. Thomson of Fond du Lac was selected president; Mr. Nielsen of Neenah, secretary and treasurer, and Charles Herrick of Appleton, trustee.

The next convention will be held in Neenah. Oshkosh and Fond du Lac sent large delegations here.

20 ARE ENTERED IN "Y" CHECKER TOURNAMENT

Twenty entries for the checker tournament at the Y. M. C. A. have been made. The tournament will begin Monday. Losers will be eliminated from the tournament until only two are left. Those two will play for first and second place. Watch fobs will be given to the two winners by the boys' division.

Entries for a chess tournament will be taken this week. The chess tournament will be conducted on the same basis as the checker tournament, with prizes for the winners. Playing will probably begin next week.

EXPECT CROWD AT C. OF C. FORUM

Yellowstone Trail and Tax Referendum Are to Be Discussed.

A large attendance is expected at the Chamber of Commerce meeting, Monday evening, January 17, when H. O. Cooley, Minneapolis, speaks on the Yellowstone trail. The place of the meeting will be announced in a day or two and will include a dinner.

Mr. Cooley intends to acquaint Appleton people with the real importance of having the city located on the Yellowstone trail. He will reveal many things not generally known about the highway from Plymouth to Puget Sound and how the association promotes its use. Several Appleton men heard Mr. Cooley at Oshkosh and say he is a fascinating speaker.

Tax referendum No. 34 of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States will also be discussed by some person well informed concerning its provisions. The members will be asked to vote upon its 15 propositions sometime this month and the talk will be for the purpose of helping them to vote intelligently. There will be no open forum connected with the meeting, as this feature is reserved for later meeting.

STATE FIXES RATE FOR DEPRECIATION

Depreciation May Be Deducted From Rentals Received From Real Estate.

There shall be assessed, levied, collected and paid a tax upon incomes received during the year ending Dec. 31," etc.

The above law passed in 1911 has had many interpretations by the tax commission and the courts as to affected various taxpayers under varying conditions.

For the benefit of those who will soon again report that their income may be stated that the term income includes rent from Wisconsin real estate including that received by the wife from realty.

From such rental may be deducted the amount paid for insurance on the improvements on buildings. Taxes paid on this realty may also be deducted. Depreciation may be taken as follows:

Sheds, frame and veneer, 7 per cent; stables, 4 per cent; other dwellings, 1.5 per cent; other farm buildings, 2 per cent; city dwellings, 2.5 per cent; apartment houses, 3 per cent; stores, 2.5 per cent; stores, flats above, 2.5 per cent; warehouses, 2.5 per cent; elevators, 2.5 per cent; factories, 5 per cent; office buildings, 2.5 per cent; hotels, 2.5 per cent.

Stables, brick and masonry, 3 per cent; farm dwellings, 1.5 per cent; other farm buildings, 1.5 per cent; city dwellings, 1.5 per cent; apartment houses, 2.5 per cent; stores, 2 per cent; stores, flats above, 2 per cent; warehouses, 2 per cent; elevators, 1.5 per cent; factories, 5 per cent; office buildings, 1.5 per cent; hotels, 1.5 per cent; paper and pulp mills, 2.5 per cent.

City dwellings, fireproof, 1 per cent; apartment houses, 1.5 per cent; warehouses, 1.5 per cent; elevators, 1.5 per cent; factories, 1.5 per cent; office buildings, 1 per cent; hotels 1.5 per cent; paper and pulp mills, 2.5 per cent.

The above figures relate only to such property from which rental is received. These expenses, insurance, taxes and depreciation, cannot be deducted on one's personal dwelling.

Suppose the owner lives in a two family flat. He can then deduct from rental received on such property one-half of the insurance, one-half of the taxes and one-half of the depreciation on the entire building.

As depreciation takes care of needed repairs from year to year, no deduction for repairs should be taken when a depreciation is taken.

RED CROSS NURSES MAKE MANY CALLS

Reports Show Busy Time During November and December—Conduct Classes.

Red Cross Public health nurses in Appleton and Kaukauna have treated 265 cases during the months of November and December, according to reports just issued. This meant 727 visits and included nursing care, infant welfare, prenatal cases, tuberculosis, child welfare, home visits to school children and sanitary inspection.

Miss Elizabeth Nienhaus, Appleton nurse, treated 60 cases in November, embracing a total of 234 calls. In December she handled 73 cases and made 283 visits.

Miss Mary Nigdel, Kaukauna Red Cross nurse, treated 68 cases in November and made 137 visits. Her December record was 57 patients treated and 73 visits made. She also examined 45 school children.

Classes in home nursing have been conducted regularly at the Fifth ward school by Red Cross nurses. The subjects studied were communicable diseases, care of patients in bed, care of babies, preparation of food for invalids and preparation for confinement.

ST. JOSEPH CHURCH HAS RECORD FOR WEDDINGS

The Rev. Joseph Miesing, guardian of St. Joseph church, has the distinction of officiating at more marriages, 48, than any other clergyman in the county. He conducted 48 weddings in 1920. The Rev. John Sprangers, pastor of St. John church at Little Chute is second on the list with 34. The Rev. W. J. Fitzmaurice of St. Mary church, Appleton, comes next with 25. The Rev. P. J. Lochman, pastor of Holy Cross church, Kaukauna, is fourth with 19, and the Rev. Theodore Marth, pastor of Zion Lutheran church is a close fifth with 15. Dr. H. E. Peabody of the Congregational church, Appleton, performed 15 marriage ceremonies during the year. The Rev. F. X. VanNestor, pastor of Holy Name church at Kimberly, 14; and the Rev. T. J. Stuer, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran church, 13. The number of marriage licenses issued by the county clerk during the year was 494. The remaining 205 ceremonies were performed by clergymen of the various cities, villages and towns of the county.

STREETS IN GOOD SHAPE: SIDEWALKS ARE SLIPPERY

"The city's work in opening up and clearing the streets of snow is greatly appreciated," said an Appleton business man Monday, "that some attention ought to be given to the slippery walks."

"I would suggest that the street department have its men spread sand or ashes on the icy sidewalks in various parts of the city, because a number of people have already had bad falls and serious accidents are liable to happen. The walks at city park are among those which I consider dangerous."

Apply Principle Of Service To Industry

That Will Be Solution of America's Industrial Problem, Dr. Harry F. Ward Declares in Address at People's Forum Sunday Evening.

Application of Jesus' principle of service to the economic activity of this nation as the solution of the industrial problem of America was declared by Dr. Harry F. Ward, D. D., New York, in his address at the People's Forum Sunday evening on "Christianity and Capitalism."

The speaker showed how the motive of profit rather than service had taken possession of the industrial and business life of America, and that capital was used for usurpation of power rather than for production. Such a system, he warned, could only mean self destruction in the end. There is no way out but that of applying the teachings of Christianity. The chapel was comfortably filled for the address. Miss Davis Branner opened the program with several of her own selections. A trio consisting of Mrs. H. W. Meyer, Jr., Mrs. Charles Reineck and Mrs. S. F. Leuehars sang, "When the Roses Bloom." Community singing was led by Charles Roberts. The Rev. F. L. Schrederberg delivered the invocation.

Answers Questions
Dr. D. O. Kinsman presided at the meeting and introduced Dr. Ward. Several questions concerning the Interchurch World Movement and its report on the steel strike (criticized by the speaker of last Sunday) were brought up during the open forum session. Further illustration of some of the points mentioned in Dr. Ward's address were also given. Dr. Ward appeared to be thoroughly informed on every phase of the subject he presented and answered all questions convincingly and without hesitancy. The speaker's opening discussion of capitalism indicated that it had not been definitely defined by economists. He called it the prevailing mode of production and distribution, or the way in which most of the people of the world were getting their work done. He said it had not been the eternal order of things and represented only a small fraction of history.

Capitalism's central idea is the profit system, the speaker stated. The motive of financial gain is the motive on which economic activity is organized and through which it reaches its efficiency. Describing profit as the surplus after all expenses and wages had been paid and depreciation allowed, he mentioned the common belief that profit had to be the incentive to draw out the efficiency of mankind; that nobody was "in business for his health."

Compete With Christianity
"It is here that capitalism becomes a popular philosophy," said Dr. Ward. "It is a way of life for those of the western world. It is here that we come in competition with Christianity. With its doctrine economic activity can never be carried forward. For this reason the commercial aspect has touched every phase of modern life. It has brought us materialism on every hand."

"Jesus' central teaching was love of neighbor. It was a doctrine of love and service. It required men to bend themselves into a community of service. Therefore you have a square contrast between the way the world is rushing toward profit or rushing toward Jesus. Which is right?"

The speaker gave illustrations which are proof that the world does not go forward to economic efficiency only

APPLETON H. S. HAS SCOUT FIRE SQUAD

Organized Drilling Is Carried on Weekly Under Fire Chief McGillan.

If you see a lot of young men moving around hurriedly at the high school, rushing about or carrying extinguishers, don't think it is in progress or that Principal Lee C. Howe is wasting time for a fire drill. It is not, perhaps, but the boys are not, either. They are learning to handle a fire drill.

The fire drill is a very important part of the school program. It is a drill in which the boys learn to handle a fire drill. It is a drill in which the boys learn to handle a fire drill. It is a drill in which the boys learn to handle a fire drill.

SAYS HE IS LAST OF FOX VALLEY PIONEERS

J. R. Sanborn of Hortonville, who was here Friday on a visit, expresses the belief that he is the only white man of the original settlers in the vicinity of Appleton.

Mr. Sanborn came to Wisconsin in 1848 as a boy of eight years. He lived near Neenah with his family and only Indians lived beyond that point. It was impossible to go much further north because of the violent rapids of the Fox river which had no dams or bridges.

He recalls many of the incidents of the early days. Ambitious farmers climbed the bluffs on the south side of the Fox river and looked over the surrounding land. They said there was nothing but hard pan on the bluffs and swamp in the depths. Appleton is built on part of the land that was a large swamp. Little Lake Hutto des Morts was covered almost completely with wild rice.

Car in Snow

A car owned and driven by Wilmer Schaefer ran into the ditch near Gillingham's corner about six o'clock Sunday evening and became deeply lodged in the snow. It took two trucks to pull the car out with the aid of several men.

R. E. Kolf of Oshkosh, was a weekend visitor here.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

Many people make a great mistake when they make soup. A cream soup must have a definite and highly flavored foundation. A thin soup must have a well-seasoned stock foundation. The function of the first course at dinner or luncheon is defeated. A toulion or puree must be appetizing and the appetite is whetted by appealing to the sense of smell as well as taste.

A mere bone will not make a bowl of stock that has a flavor of beef or veal about it. And a few celery leaves will not make a palate-tickling cream of celery soup. Lean beef absolutely must be used along with the bone and a white stock needs as much meat as bone to give it flavor. The meat should of course be a cheap coarse grained cut.

Menu for Tomorrow
BREAKFAST—Orange juice, bread, crumb pancakes, sirup, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Baked macaroni and cheese, head lettuce salad, bran muffins, peach butter, tea.
DINNER—Tomato soup, broiled fish, plain boiled potatoes, buttered onions, fruit salad, crackers, cheese, coffee.

Plain boiled potatoes are the test of the real cook. If a woman can serve this most plebian dish in a manner so attractive as to make it popular she is master of her art. Finely minced parsley sprinkled over the potatoes helps a lot toward elevating the dish.

BREAD CRUMB PANCAKES
2 cups fine bread crumbs
2 cups scalded milk
2 tablespoons butter
1 egg
1-2 cup flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
Mix bread crumbs, milk and butter and let stand until soft. Add eggs, salt, flour, sifted with baking powder and salt. Mix thoroughly and bake on a hot, well-greased griddle.

BAKED MACARONI AND CHEESE
1 cup broken macaroni
Cook macaroni in boiling salted water till tender, about 25 minutes. If cooked in an uncovered pan the water will be practically all boiled away. Put a layer of the macaroni in a buttered baking dish, add a layer of cheese, another layer of macaroni and cheese, making cheese the last layer. Pour over milk, sprinkle with paprika and bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven.

The STAGE

"Up in Mabel's Room"

So many things happen "Up in Mabel's Room" and so many people went there to see what happened, that there is probably hardly a playgoer in the United States who is not eagerly awaiting the appearance of this celebrated farce, which scored so great a success in New York last season.

There is, therefore, much anticipation of the forthcoming production of "Up in Mabel's Room" at the Appleton Theatre on Jan. 14 for an engagement of one night under the direction of A. H. Woods. Mr. Woods, probably the most successful of theatrical managers, is specially noted for his genius in selecting the kind of farce that the American public loves, and he has never made a more astute choice than "Up in Mabel's Room."

The play is in three acts and the work of Wilson Collison and Otto Harbach. The action takes place in a country home on Long Island. The plot of the play may be briefly described as a pursuit of a troublesome lady's garment, that threatened to disrupt the married life of a young benedict and his wife. The play abounds in scintillatingly funny situations, in ingenious entanglements and brilliant lines. It is superbly acted and splendidly produced. Feminine playgoers will find it a perfect revelation of the very latest in gowns.

Vaudeville Program

"Merry Milk Maids," a musical comedy, headlines the bill at Appleton theatre the first half of this week. Other numbers are the Kellys, lag punchers and boxers; Shannon Irish songs; Dixon and Schroeder, dancers.

Noyes Matteson of Clintonville, president of the National Union of the American Society of Equity, was here on business Saturday.
